KILLEAN

The most northerly burial ground of the parishes of Killean and Kilkenzie is at Killean two miles north of A'Chleit the second church to be built. It was built in 1792 and is still in use.

The first church of Killean (St. John) was built in the 13th century but fell to the ground in 1770 during the incumbency of the Rev Robert Thomson.

The principal Currie (curry) families are interred in the old part which was closed in 1932.

The legible stones read as follows.
